

own dissatisfaction and failures. We ask you to stop the kind of bickering that you created. Calling the Prime Minister "a let-down and a sellout like his father" will not solve any of your problems, considering your frustrations are contradicting and ambiguous therefore making no progress.

Last but not least, we would like for you to verify the source and credibility of the allegations you made against John Akumu and your assertions that "These are the same like minded DIVISIVE CHARACTERS we want to be put to an END..." It is important to use proper discernment prior to making a public accusation; otherwise we are considering your accusations a deliberate act to scandalize one's name.
